Removal of Councilmen of New Orleans.

Grant-Hancock Correspondence.

List of Criminals Pardoned.

Resignation of Collector Steedman.

McClellan Minister to England.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 15, 1868.

GRANT-HANCOCK CORRESPONDENCE.

In the House to-day the Speaker submitted the following:

In compliance with a resolution of the House of February 14th, 1868, I have the honor to transmit herewith copies of the correspondence between General Hancock and myself relative to the removal, by General Hancock, of the Councilmen in the city of New Orleans.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
U. S. GRANT, General.

Telegram received at Washington, February 7, 1868, from the headquarters of the Fifth Military District:

NEW ORLEANS, February 7, 1868—General U. S. Grant: I have removed nine members of the City Council, two white and seven colored, for contempt of orders of the military commander, in proceeding to an election for a Recorder for the Second District, and which is an elective office, under the laws, by the people and not by the Council. The attempt to hold the said election was made while I was absent in Texas, but the Council were referred to General Sheridan's order forbidding the election until reconstruction was completed, without the authority of the commanding general. Nevertheless, these members voted for an immediate election, and the project was carried. The election was about to be completed, when one or two members, more timid than the rest, left, and broke the quorum. A case in point is General Mower's special order of October 15, 1867, removing the Jefferson City Council for a like offense. My action in this matter was in accordance with the power granted by the Reconstruction act, which allows District Commanders to suspend or remove persons from office, and provide from time to time for the performance of duties of persons removed, by appointment. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Maj. Gen. U. S. A.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8, 1868.—Major General W. S. Hancock, New Orleans:—Suspend your order removing City Councils of New Orleans until full report of reasons is sent. Answer by mail.
U. S. GRANT, General.

By telegram received at Washington, D. C., 9 A. M., February 11, 1868:

NEW ORLEANS, LA., 2:30 P. M., Feb. 9, 1868.—General U. S. Grant, Commanding Armies of United States:—Your dispatch of the 8th of February directing me to suspend my order No. 28, of the 7th of December, removing certain members of the City Council of New Orleans, until a full report of the reasons therefor shall be sent, was received 10 A. M. to-day. I request that you may reconsider your action, and any order in the premises be not suspended until you have have the full report of the reasons called for by you. I telegraphed you at the moment the order was issued, giving as full a statement of my reasons for acting as I thought could be made. I referred you to the order of Gen. Sheridan forbidding elections, which you have on file at your headquarters, and stated that the City Council had been previously notified of this order by me. I also referred you to an order of Gen. Mower, issued in October, which set forth a parallel case, and which you have on file. In that case an appeal was taken to you for re-instatement of the Council removed by General Mower, which appeal you have not sustained. The present case was in defiance of that example of General Sheridan's order and my own letter, cautioning the Council to desist in the election, and forwarded to you a printed copy, Jan. 26. It was also illegal under the law by which they claimed to act. I was astonished at the action of the Council, and could not account for it except by the fact that they had been instigated to do it by designing men who believed if I dared to make these removals it would end in my own removal, and they would be protected at any rate. My self-respect as Commander of this District made it absolutely necessary that I should take summary measures, regardless of consequences with which partizans might threaten me. I do not know what fuller report could be furnished in this case, for all the papers explaining my action have been sent to you. To suspend my order would be to destroy my usefulness here, and in such an event, a sense of what I consider due to me and my position in this matter, would necessitate a respectful request to be relieved from my present command. Although I have been here seventy days, this is the second occasion I have taken on my own responsibility to make a removal—the first one two days previous to this—both for grave causes, reported to you in detail by telegraph; and while I fully recognize the powers of the General-in-Chief to disapprove my action, I respectfully request that as I have acted upon a full knowledge of facts, the General-in-Chief may delay his action until he can inform me what further papers or information he may desire in addition to what has been furnished, for a full understanding of the case under consideration. My action in the premises was based upon the first Supplementary Reconstruction Act, July, 1867. I await your reply before issuing the order.
W. S. HANCOCK, Maj. Gen. Com.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Maj. Gen. W. S. Hancock, New Orleans: If your order removing City Councils has been executed and the new appointees are in, you need not suspend orders, as directed.
U. S. GRANT, General.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—Gen. U. S. Grant, commanding U. S. Army: The change in the City Councils was an accomplished fact when your dispatch of February 9th was received. Several of the appointees had already filed copies of their oaths of office. In my selections I have appointed the best men to office, without regard to their political sentiments. All must take the required oath. The change will be of immense advantage to the city, as the poor, of which the city is principally composed, are dependent upon public confidence.
WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Maj. Gen. U. S. A.

FINANCIAL.

The fractional currency printed for the week amounts to $520,500; shipped $186,567. National Bank notes issued $151,810, amount in circulation $299,629,226; the Treasurer holds in bonds as security therefor $341,319,800, and for deposits of public money $37,877,950. Fractional currency redeemed and destroyed during the week $597,700. Internal Revenue receipts for the week $1,452,627; aggregate for fiscal year to date $123,625,284.

PORTS OF ENTRY.

Secretary McCulloch favors the proposition to make Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago ports of entry, to which goods can be sent in bond from the Atlantic sea ports, paying duties there.

RESIGNATION OF A COLLECTOR.

General J. B. Steedman has resigned the collectorship of Internal Revenue in New Orleans, to take effect May 15th.

LIST OF PARDONS.

A report of the number of counterfeiters, forgers and persons condemned for perjury and embezzlement, has been prepared at the Attorney General's office for transmission to Congress. It will show that the number of counterfeiters and persons convicted of passing counterfeit money, who have been pardoned, is about one hundred; the number of individuals convicted of forgeries about twenty-five. One or two appear in the list of pardons that were convicted of perjury. The number of such criminals who have received Executive clemency is upwards of a hundred.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16th, 1868.

GEN. M'CLELLAN MINISTER TO ENGLAND.

There seems to be no doubt the appointment of Minister to England has been tendered to General McClellan. Nothing definite has been heard from him as to his acceptance. The resignation of Mr. Adams, it has been ascertained from an official source, takes place in April.

RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

Several more speeches are to be made in the Senate on the House reconstruction bill, one by Mr. Doolittle in answer to the gentlemen who replied to his opening remarks on that measure.

SOUTHERN STATES.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, February, 15.—In the Convention to-day the oyster tax question was laid on the table, also the Georgia resolutions asking Congress to loan the South thirty million dollars.

Judge Underwood to-day remanded Churchwell Combs to the custody of the military. He decided that Congress, which was the war making power, has not yet declared peace, and the country being in a state of armistice, the Courts have no right to take prisoners out of military custody. The case goes up to the Supreme Court.

General Schofield issued several orders to-day about registration. One orders a new registration in Richmond March 28th. Another provides that when voters in the State have changed residence since the last registration they may register in the district where they reside. The third is for the guidance of registration boards, and directs where a person has held a United States office and then voted voluntarily for secession, he is disqualified. The holding of a United States office is defined as having held an office to which the holder was appointed by the President, courts of law, or heads of departments. Those who have held county or town offices created for the administration of justice are disfranchised, but not their deputies. Executive pardon does not remove disfranchisement.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Feb. 15.—In the Convention to-day a motion to reconsider paragraph fifth, section first, of the Legislative Committee's report, adopted yesterday, was defeated—yeas sixty-two, nays sixty-two, the President voting in the negative. It provides that no person holding office under the United States or State of Georgia, except Justices of inferior Courts and officers of militia, shall be eligible to the Legislature, and no member of the Legislature shall be appointed by the Governor or elected by the Legislature to any office of emolument.

The Finance Committee was authorized to negotiate a loan to defray the expenses of the Convention.

So much of a section passed yesterday as disfranchises persons convicted of larceny was reconsidered and stricken out.

General Meade left for Florida last night.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, Feb. 15.—The Convention was engaged to-day on the bill of rights. Among the sections was one pledging the faith of the State for the payment of its public debt other than that incurred in aid of the rebellion.

Mr. Durham offered a section prohibiting marriage between whites and negroes, which was tabled and thus virtually voted down.

The use of the hall for a lecture was objected to by negro and white delegates, on the ground that on former occasions negroes had not been allowed the privilege of the same floor with the whites.

FLORIDA.

TALLAHASSE, Florida, Feb. 15.—In the Convention to-day twenty delegates were present. Large crowds of colored citizens collected in the streets before the Convention met. The military commander, by request of Governor Walker, provided a guard for the Convention, to repel violence, if offered.

The Convention assembled without interference and adopted an article relative to the State officers. It provides for the election of Governor and Lieutenant Governor for the term of four years, the remainder of the State officers to be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

A caucus was held by a majority at noon to-day, at which one of the minority appeared and proposed a measure of conciliation, which was not agreed to.

A mass meeting was held this afternoon in the Capitol Square, and was addressed by colored and white speakers of the Billings faction. The speakers seemed to have given up the struggle for the mastery of the Convention and propose to try the issue at the ballot box.

TENNESSEE.

The Tennessee Conservative State Convention met in Nashville, on Saturday night, and adopted resolutions looking to a thorough organization throughout the State and warmly endorsing the administration of President Johnson, declaring that the Government was established to give protection to the political rights and material interests of the white race, and that it should be so administered; proposing to unite with the Democratic party of the Union and all others in opposition to the existing Congressional despotism. In relation to the next Presidency the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That Andrew Johnson is the choice of the Democratic and Conservative people of Tennessee for the Presidency of the United States in November next, and that if selected he will receive their cordial and unanimous support. They will, however, if some other good man and true to the Constitution and to the rights and liberties of the people be nominated by the National Democratic Convention, cheerfully yield him a hearty and enthusiastic support."

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, February 15.—The bill of rights came up as the special order in the Convention to-day. The first section, referred to Select Committee as submitted, guarantees suffrage to all persons, irrespective of race, color or sex. The seven succeeding sections were adopted. They embody no new ideas.

The member sent to Vicksburg to confer with General Gillem in regard to tax was in his seat, but no report of his mission was made.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, February 15.—A democratic mass meeting was held to-night in St. Charles Theatre, which was densely crowded. J. N. Leachen was chosen President. Resolutions were adopted endorsing President Johnson and affiliating with the Northern Democracy. Ex-Gov. John B. Weller, of California, and Mr. E. M. Terger, of Missouri, have addressed the meeting, which is still in session at this hour—9:30 P. M.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, February 15.—The Convention was mainly occupied to-day in discussing a resolution asking Congress to loan the State ten millions dollars for the purpose of purchasing lands for the landless.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15, 1867.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Several petitions were presented and referred when the House resumed the consideration of the Kentucky election case.

Mr. SMITH spoke in favor of his claim to the seat.

Mr. TRIMBLE, on behalf of Mr. Brown said he hurled back as unmanly [illegible] all insinuations against the loyalty of that gentleman.

[illegible] ASHBURNE, of Ills., desiring [illegible] stop to the debate, moved the previous question.

Mr. COBURN offered, as a substitute for the two pending resolutions, one declaring that Sam E. Smith, having received a majority of votes cast in conformity to law, is entitled to the seat.

The House recorded the previous question—57 to 52.

After remarks by Messrs. COBURN, BLAINE, POLAND and DAWES the question was taken and Mr. Coburn's substitute rejected—30 to 101.

The resolutions from the Committee on Elections, declaring Mr. Smith not entitled to a seat, and directing the Governor of Kentucky to be notified of the vacancy, were adopted.

The SPEAKER presented the correspondence between Gen. Grant and Gen. Hancock. Referred to Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. PAINE, rising to a privileged question, sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a paragraph from the Washington telegraphic correspondence of yesterday's New York Tribune, relating to incidents which occurred in the room of the Committee on Reconstruction on the impeachment proposition. He then said: Of course I have no knowledge as to the source of the information of the writer, but it happens that every single statement purporting to be a statement of fact relating to me and that committee is without the slightest shadow of foundation.

The House went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union. Mr. WELKER in the chair, on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill. It appropriates $1,268,934.

After some debate Mr. WASHBURNE said when the bill was prepared the committee had no information as to the appointment of a Minister to Greece, therefore no item for that mission had been inserted, but the gentleman from Massacusetts (Mr. BUTLER,) had been instructed by the Committee to move an the amendment to that effect.

Mr. BUTLER moved to insert the word "Greece."

Without disposing of the question the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

A Japanese Funeral—Curious Ceremonies—Destitution and Crime—A Grand Cosmopolitan Festival—Snowed Up—Cruelty to Animals—Valentine's Day—Amusements, &c.

[From our own Correspondent.]

NEW YORK, February 15, 1868.

A Japanese funeral is a new incident in our western civilization. Ha-ya-takee, chief of the troupe of Japanese jugglers, recently performing in this city, died and was buried a few days ago, according to the rites practiced by his people. The body of the dead juggler was wrapped in rich brocade silk, with jewels and trinkets scattered about his breast and loins; his hair was shaved from the temples, his teeth and nails blackened, a half opened fan placed in his left hand, and at the foot of the coffin, up to the time of the funeral, stood a cup of water, a cup of rice, and a platter of soaked crackers. These were designed for the use of the disembodied spirit, which, according to the Japanese belief, hovers for seven days among the relatives of the deceased. At the end of this period it enters, if the life has been an evil one, into the body of an inferior animal, but if pure, it occupies the tenement of a noble and beautiful animal. Day and night during the long watch between the death and the funeral, the Japanese remained gathered around the body of their dead chief, filling the air with their lamentations, sometimes breaking out into chaunts, at others indulging in long dismal howls. The room was scented with spices and burnt Eastern drugs. At the funeral the Japanese mourners knelt around the open grave in the snow. All then threw handfuls of earth upon the coffin, and each brought away a stone, or weed, or bit of earth as a memento of the occasion. Ha-ya-ta-kee was a noble in his own land—for nobility in Japan is not thought inconsistent with the profession of a charmer. He was the author of a number of Japanese dramas, and looked upon as a man of mark and learning.

DESTITUTION AND CRIME.

There is very great destitution in New York at present, and with it that increase of crime which is always exhibited in times of unusual poverty or suffering. But the assertion current in some of the papers that one out of every seven of our population have, during the last year, been committed to prison or receive charity at some of the public institutions, is false.

A. H. STEPHENS.

A. H. Stephens, of Confederate notoriety, is to come to New York this spring and deliver, by special invitation, an address on political and social affairs in the South. The talents of this gentleman are too well known for him to fail to obtain crowded audiences. I am reminded by this announcement of an anecdote concerning Mr. Stephens, reported to me by one who was present. Mr. Stephens, as is well known, is very small, weighing indeed only ninety-four pounds. On one occasion a number of big Georgia mountain men came in to a political meeting to hear him speak. One huge, broad-shouldered giant could not restrain his amazement when the diminutive orator made his appearance, and he exclaimed: "That Alex. H. Stephens! By jingo, if he was just greased behind the ears, I could swallow him whole!" Mr. Stephens overheard the remark. "No doubt you could," said he, "and if you did, my friend, you would have more brains in your stomach than you ever had in your head." The retort as may be supposed, was eminently successful, and was enjoyed by the victim of it as heartily as by the rest.

COSMOPOLITAN FESTIVAL.

We have some talk of a grand cosmopolitan festival, to come off next June, in which the singing societies, the rifle clubs, the orchestral armies of the old world and the new, are to unite in New York in a grand mammoth exhibition of skill. The co-operation of German French, Swiss and Austrian Societies, with those of all the American cities, has been invited. It is estimated that this international gathering will assemble full fifty thousand sharp-shooters and gymnasts, a vast number of choristers, and several thousand orchestral performers. Of course the festival will be largely German in character, our friends of the Fatherland having a taste for outdoor celebrations of the kind. We may look to see a gathering such as the history of our city has not hitherto chronicled. It is stated that the railroad and steamship companies promise to aid the enterprise by issuing excursion tickets at low rates. If the programme should be carried out, what rivers of lager, what mountains of pretzels, what tons of schweitzer kase will be consumed by the thirsty and hungry multitudes.

SNOWED UP.

Probably every one knows that all New York does business at the lower end of the Island, and travels from two to four miles to the other end in order to reach its domicils. The recent snow has caused us therefore no little vexation and inconvenience. The railroad tracks have been for several weeks partially snowed under, and the travel has been exceedingly difficult. Every morning and night sees cars filled full of men and women, drawn by horses that struggle and pant and sweat and stumble and sometimes drop prostrate with exhaustion in their desperate efforts to drag along the icy rails the home-seeking or business wending crowds. At last Mr. Berg, President of the "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," has interposed, and endeavored to compel the railroad companies to a more humane consideration for the poor creatures in their power. Some arrests have been made, and heavy fines imposed. In one case it was found that a car with only two horses was carrying as many as a hundred persons, the driver forcing his nearly exhausted horses along by heavy blows from a stick. Mr. Berg's interference has compelled the use of a second team to each car, but this has rendered a curtailment of the number of cars necessary, and hence while the horses gain the bipeds remain more inconvenienced than ever. But all these circumstances will hasten the day when we shall have elevated or subterranean railways, with ample accommodation for rapid transit from one end of the Island to the other.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

St. Valentine's Day has passed with the usual number of tender and gilt edged missives. Of late years, however, the custom in New York has been merely handed over to children and servant girls. But even these manage to load the city mails with a vast number of letters. It is a wonder that such a concentration of warm expressions and burning vows does not render the mail bags inflammable, and the Postoffice, in insurance parlance, extra hazardous.

At the theatres nothing new. The weather is superb, the sleighing is excellent. Business is a little more hopeful. Balls and parties are abounding. Gold fluctuates. Politics are mixed. The health of the city is good.

Preparing for the Fenians.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—Provisional gunboats are being got ready for service on the opening of navigation. They will be temporarily manned by a naval brigade now in commission. A gunboat will be stationed at Prescott. An Imperial gunboat will be ready in the spring to assist in patroling the lakes.

A dispatch from Montreal says a report is current there that only three of the Nova Scotia members who have given assent to the confederation intend to return to Ottawa.

Girard College Difficulty.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, February 15.—A bill in equity was filed to-day in nisi prius, on motion Jno. Fallen. The Court granted a rule to show cause, on Saturday, why the city of Philadelphia should not be ordered to advance to plaintiff the amount required to pay counsel fees and costs of suit, and asking the Supreme Court of this State to rescue Girard College by taking its management from the present political guardians, Councils of the consolidated city, and giving it to a permanent board of directors, to be selected by the Court from the locality and with the qualifications indicated in Girard's will.

Catholic Bishops Appointed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—Yesterday the appointments of three Catholic Bishops for the diocese of Philadelphia were received from Cardinal Bainabo, of Rome. The Pope has designated the following: Right Rev. Wm. O'Hara, of St. Patrick's, Bishop of Scranton, Pa.; Rev. J. F. Shanahan, of Media, Bishop of Harrisburg, and Rev. Dr. Becker, of Richmond, Va., Bishop of Wilmington, Delaware.

—Henry Ward Beecher, Rev. Lyman Abbott, and Bishop Coxe, of Western New York, are writing Lives of Christ. There is a very good one in the New Testament, but it was written by some poor fishermen. Give Beecher a chance, and then ——!

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Earl of Derby has been very ill. An uncontradicted rumor was prevalent this forenoon that he died during the night.

Sir G. Shee, one of the Judges of the Court of Queen's Bench, died last evening.

It now appears the reports which were printed in the morning journals, that Earl Derby and Judge Shee were dead, are without any foundation, though both have been dangerously ill. It is announced to-night they are much better and recovery confidently looked for.

Later advices do not confirm the Abyssinian intelligence sent last evening. A dispatch to-day states no such movements of the Egyptian corps as alleged had occurred. Much of the news from Abyssinia is to be received with caution.

LONDON, February 16.—It is generally believed Lord Stanley will soon succeed Earl Derby at the head of the ministry.

ITALY.

FLORENCE, February 15.—The dinner to Admiral Farragut, already mentioned, was a grand affair. Sella, the former Minister of France, toasted the Admiral, and in his remarks said "iron hearts and not iron clads based his fame." The Admiral in acknowledging the compliment spoke of his love for Italy, and his confidence in her noble progress. George P. Marsh, representative of the United States in Italy, on behalf of his country, thanked Sella for his hopes of eternal alliance. Depries, the former Secretary of Marine Affairs, said "an alliance with America, a country found by Columbus, baptized by Vespucci, and celebrated by Bolta, was entirely natural."

SOUTH AMERICA.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—The Star from Rio Janerio, arrived here to-day, brings the following intelligence:

Beyond the usual skirmishing there has been no fighting between the hostile armies on the Parana. Cholera was still raging with unabated fury in Buenos Ayres. There was also much sickness in the camps of both armies. The revolt which had broken out in Senafe, one of the provinces of the Argentine Republic, had been successful, the ruling Government having been overthrown. The Spanish Government hopes for a general peace from the internal discussions now prevailing in Peru.

FIRE AT ANTWERP.

ANTWERP, Feb. 16.—A fire occurred here to-day, which, at first, threatened to be very destructive. It broke out in a fleet of vessels laden with petroleum, and near some large warehouses stored with that article, but the flames were confined to two or three lighters, on board of which were about three hundred barrels of petroleum, which were destroyed.

FRANCE.

PARIS, February 16.—The official journals of this city deny there will be an immediate change in the Ministry, and contradict the reports that the government contemplates important alterations in the Constitution of the Empire.

SOUTHAMPTON, Feb. 15.—The steamship Weser, from New York, arrived Sunday last.

FOREIGN NEWS BY MAIL.

NEW YORK, February 16.—The London Times has a detailed account of the land slide at Vesuvius by which fifty-five lives were lost.

The Vienna Debate says England is endeavoring to determine Austria, France, Russia and Prussia to suspend the transport of Cretan refugees to Greece.

PARIS, February 5.—The Constitutionelle publishes a letter from Bucharist relating that three bands of armed individuals, each band four hundred and fifty strong, are assembled at different points of the Danubian principalities. They appear to be under the command of foreign leaders, and are preparing to enter Bulgaria to set fire to Turkish villages and renew the scenes of brigandage which were suppressed last year. The Roman government, having been warned of their intention, is preparing to disarm these bands.

VIENNA, February 4.—The Austrian Red Book was laid before the delegations. Referring to German affairs this statement says Austria entertains, since the treaty of Prague, the same peaceful and friendly sentiments towards Prussia and Italy as towards the other powers. Though Austria's loss of her position in Germany did not imply distraction of her sympathy toward her federal allies, nevertheless she would not side with Prussia in the Luxemburg difficulty. On the other hand she would not attempt to profit by a war between France and Prussia, and the Imperial Government took care to prevent the Emperor Napoleon and the French statesmen from expecting the co-operation of Austria in a conflict with Prussia. Impartial and neutral, Austria's [illegible] must have greatly contributed towards preservation of peace [illegible] their proffer of its good offices the Imperial Government was compelled to act with the greatest prudence, as it desired neither to exercise any pressure upon Prussia to induce her to sacrifice German national interest, nor did it wish to lay itself open to suspicion of confirming Prussia in her resistance with a view of bringing about a conflict. There is one fact which cannot be overlooked, namely, that while under the impression of danger of an European war, many an anxious glance was directed both from Berlin and Munich towards Austria. Intimations which were received respecting a new alliance were too vague and too exclusively favoring the interests of one side for Austria to sacrifice for the freedom of action he obtained in exchange for rights and duties cancelled at the termination of the era which closed with a dissolution of the German Confederation.

The statement of the Red Book, referring to the Eastern question, declares that international obligations, and Austria's friendly relations with the Sublime Porte, have deterred the Imperial Government from giving any support to the Candia insurrection. The meeting between the Emperor of Austria and the Emperor of the French at Salsburg, gave rise to a certain agreement upon leading principles, with the object of inducing the Porte not to insist upon the limits within which it wished to restrict the proposed mission. In the meantime reforms by the Porte have justified the change in the attitude of Austria and France.

The Red Book also states that urgent representations have been made by the Austrian Cabinet to the Government of Servia in reference to the dangerous movements going on in that country.

Fire at Cincinnati.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 16.—A fire broke out this morning on Sixth, between Elm and Plum streets, which destroyed the residence and bakery of Daniel Smith. Mr. Smith's loss is $12,000, partially insured. The fire extended to some dwelling houses adjoining the bakery, which were much damaged by fire and water. The stable attached to the bakery was also burned, together with several very valuable houses, on which there was no insurance.

VARIOUS TELEGRAMS.

—In consideration of the attempt of the English government to unite British Columbia with the Dominion of Canada, resolutions were introduced in the California Legislature as follows: That it was of the utmost importance to the Pacific States and the whole Union that British Columbia be annexed to the United States, and that our Senators and Representatives be requested to urge the Government at Washington to use all honorable means to acquire said territory; that the Governor be instructed to telegraph these resolutions to the President and members of Congress from California and other Pacific States.

—The St. Louis City Council having learned of a disposition on the part of Congress, or a portion thereof, to move the National Capital to the Mississippi Valley, have adopted resolutions requesting Senators Drake and Henderson, and Representatives Pile and Newcomb from that city, to use their best efforts and offer the greatest inducements necessary to secure the removal of the National Capital to St. Louis county. Also, a resolution asking the State Legislature to assist in effecting this object was adopted.

—The Metropolitan (New York) Revenue Board has been removed and their duties devolve upon U. S. local officers. During the past two weeks six thousand dollars were collected as tax on cotton in the Thirty-second District, which was delivered many months ago. It is believed one Transportation Company moved to the city six thousand bales of cotton, and only one thousand can be traced for collection of tax.

—Advices from Laguayra (West Indies) to the 5th inst., state that the American whaling schooner Hannah Grant, while at anchor off the coast, was deserted by some of the crew in boats, who were made prisoners on landing by Spano Indians. A member of the crew aboard got arms and assisted in seizing the vessel. The precise spot at which the occurrence took place is not stated. A United States man-of-war is expected to obtain redress.

—The cigar manufacturers of St. Louis have held another meeting, at which it was unanimously agreed that affixing a stamp to each cigar could not be carried out, and even if it were practicable it would ruin their business. A committee was appointed to report the views of the cigar makers in writing and send them to the proper authorities at Washington.

—A letter from Shanghai, Dec. 2d, states that United States Minister Burlingame and family, and others, who left Pekin overland for Tuntezin to take the steamer, were detained at Tungsung, though accompanied by a large Chinese escort, on account of the proximity of a large band of robbers, who it was supposed desired to capture the party for ransom.

—The suit pending between George W. Pomeroy, of New York, and Wm. H. Benton, of St. Louis, for a million of dollars, alleged to have been fraudulently kept from the former by the latter, a report of which was telegraphed some time since, is likely to be compromised by Benton paying to Pomeroy somewhere in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

SUICIDE.

An Aged and Wealthy Citizen Charged With Crime and in Remorse Blows Out His Brains.

A few weeks ago a young woman named Elizabeth B. Ruch made information before Alderman McMasters preferring charges of adultery, and fornication and bastardy against Philip Showers, a wealthy, highly respected and aged citizen of Allegheny. The prosecutrix resided in the same neighborhood with the accused and the intimacy sprang up several months ago, as is alleged. On Saturday afternoon an officer visited the residence of Showers, at Spring Garden, Seventh ward, Allegheny, and was met at the door by Mrs. Showers. He asked if Mr. Showers was in and on being told he was, requested to see him on private business. Showers made his appearance when the officer took him aside and communicated the object of his visit. He expressed a willingness that his wife should know all, and requested permission from the officer to retire to his room for the purpose of changing his clothes, after which he said he would accompany him. The request was granted and Showers repaired to a bed chamber, seated himself in a chair, and taking a loaded gun pointed it at his head and deliberately fired, the bullet penetrating the brain and causing instant death.

Coroner Clawson was summoned to hold an inquest, and a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered. The deceased bore an excellent character and was widely known and respected. He was about sixty years of age, and for a long time past has been one of the principal owners in the extensive Lafayette Foundry of Allegheny. He was worth probably $50,000.

Our Young Men Abroad—How a Former Pittsburgh Bank Clerk Did Business in Chicago.

A young man, formerly a teller in a banking house on Market street of this city, who got into a difficulty with his employers by "overdrawing" his account some six thousand dollars, has again turned up as a defaulter in Chicago, where he had repaired to make his fortune. In that city he entered into partnership with two young men, formerly residents of Pittsburgh, and for nearly a year was prosperously engaged in the forwarding and commission business; but his avarice got the better of his honesty, and collecting some $31,000 of accounts due the firm on the first of January, and by a series of worthless drafts which he had discounted at banks realized about $50,000 more, with which he disappeared and has not been heard from since. His mode of operations with one of these latter is given as follows: Entering the office, he sought the Cashier, and after a few moments' conversation, stated that their house had been doing business with the —— National Bank, but that the latter had been charging them too much, and he would like to change their account to another place. The Cashier agreed, and the account was immediately opened. In Chicago drafts with bills of lading attached are readily negotiable, and proceeding to the counter of one he drew upon a Pittsburgh house for $3,000, attaching a bill of lading for a car load of "middles," as side pork is often called. This operation he repeated three times, during one day, checking each time for $2,900, leaving the balance, less the discount, on deposit. The drafts came to Pittsburgh, were presented, payment refused, and protested. The bank here then proceeded to arrest the pork in transitu, but what was the astonishment of the Chicago Cashier when the telegraph informed him that there were here held, subject to his order, three car loads of "middlings," a sort of feed, worth perhaps $500 a car load.

The young man moved in the best circles of society, was a prominent church member, and merited, by his open conduct, the respect of the entire business community.

President Hughart's Remarks Before the Baltimore Council.

The Baltimore Sun of Saturday contained the following:

"After the adjournment of the First Branch of the City Council last evening, the members were introduced to W. O. Hughart, President of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, and Wm. F. Logan, Esq., of Pittsburgh. The former briefly addressed the members in relation to the object of his visit to this city, which is to procure the support of the Mayor and City Council in the effort to build the ninety miles remaining unfinished of the road to Cumberland. He referred to the efforts of those controlling the railways of Pennsylvania to divert the trade of the western section of that State from Baltimore to Philadelphia, and instanced, as one of the results thereof, the fact that only 34,000 barrels of petroleum had been sent from the great oil region to this city, while several hundreds of thousands barrels were shipped to Philadelphia. He wanted this city to defer the receipt of the unpaid interest on the bonds heretofore endorsed by the city until 1781, and also to extend other aid, so as to enable the Company to build and equip the road. He expected on Tuesday evening to have an opportunity of addressing the City Council at length on the subject, when he would have with him the data to show the great advantages which would result from the early completion of the Connellsville Railroad.

Probably Fatal Insanity.

On Saturday an insane old woman residing near Smith's Ferry, on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, had an experience which has probably, ere this, resulted in her death. The Cleveland express train, due here at 6:55 P. M., was running at usual speed a little this side of the station mentioned, when the woman was observed on the track ahead of the locomotive. The whistle sounded, the brakes were applied and the engine reversed. The old woman did not get off the track, but the train stopped just before reaching her; she then got off the track and walked beside the road until the train had started again, when she ran forward and stepped in front of the locomotive. She was immediately struck and knocked down. When taken up it was found that one of her legs had been cut off, and her head had received frightful injuries. It is probable that she is dead before this. We learn that on Saturday morning she seized her little grandchild and threw it into the blazing fire of the grate, but the child was rescued uninjured.

Mistaken Identity.

We gave, in Saturday's GAZETTE, the particulars of the Lizzie Cassiday case, and concluded by setting forth that the girl had refused or failed to recognize her mother, who had traveled all the way from Utica, New York, to reclaim her child from the life of shame she was leading. After talking with and entreating the wayward girl to recognize her maternal parent, Lizzie finally yielded and acknowledged that she was the long lost daughter. But Lizzie lied woefully, however, and the old lady came to the conclusion that she was not her daughter, and then in vain the girl pleaded to be recognized as such. And so the case stands. The mother claimed the daughter, but the latter disowned the former; then the daughter claimed the mother, but the old lady in turn denied the relationship. Lizzie is a hard case. She was recommitted to jail.

To Be Fined.

Repeated warnings have been given to business men and others to clear the pavements in front of their premises of all obstructions, and ample time has been afforded them to comply with the ordinance. The matter is still disregarded in some localities, and we are authorized to say that, after to-day, any person guilty of disobeying the ordinance will be fined according to the requirement of the enactment. There is an impression that boxes, barrels, &c., may be left on the pavement so long as they are ranged next the building, but this is a mistaken idea. The obstructions are allowed only so long as is necessary for receiving or shipping. All will do well to make a note of the fact that the ordinance is to be strictly enforced. The Mayor announces his determination to rigorously enforce all the ordinances.

Man Overboard.

A deck hand on board the steamer "Kate Robinson," lying at the Monongahela wharf, between Wood and Market streets, had a narrow escape from drowning on Saturday afternoon. Between three and four o'clock on that afternoon he was engaged in some duty on the deck, when he lost his balance and fell into the river between the "Kate Robinson" and the "Camelia." He was rescued with considerable difficulty by ropes thrown him by his comrades.

A Domestic Squabble in Lawrenceville.

A young man of Lawrenceville, aged about twenty-one, respectably connected, visited the office of Alderman Lawrence Mitchell, of the Second ward of that part of the consolidated city, one day last week and, stated that he was in great trouble and that he wanted the Alderman's advice. He then proceeded to make a statement in detail, to the effect that he was a Benedict of four weeks; that he and his wife did not get along smoothly; that she had very recently told him he might go to the ——, and that she would not live with him any longer. The young man seemed very much distressed, (says Alderman Mitchell) not knowing what course to take. He went on to state how he had rented and furnished a room for housekeeping, at a heavy expense, and how his wife would do nothing for him, would not even stay at the home he had so generously provided for her. He wanted to know of the Alderman if he could obtain a divorce from the faithless one. After receiving some good advice from the officer of the law, he said if his wife would do her part he would do his. He requested the Alderman to take an interest in his affairs, and try to induce his wife to return to his furnished room and his affections. The Alderman wrote a note to the young wife, requesting her to come to his office. The note brought her on the same evening into the presence of the Magistrate, to whom she stated that she was sixteen years of age and the daughter of a once respectable merchant of Lawrenceville; that she had married her husband about four weeks ago, after a courtship of three weeks, and that she thought it best to be seperated from him, inasmuch as they could not live happily together. She said her husband had quarrelled with her before they had been man and wife a week, and had threatened to enlist at the Arsenal. It was moreover reported that there was another woman who had prior claims upon him. Alderman Mitchell concludes his account of the affair by stating that the parties are all respectably connected and well known in Lawrenceville.

The young lady was told by Alderman Mitchell to go home, and to call again, when he would endeavor to reconstruct the broken household, as he would rather undertake to marry than to unmarry. He says he has had some experience in the latter line, both in English and German, and that his office is in the Second ward of Lawrenceville, between Ewalt and Bellefontaine streets, where all other business entrusted to his care will be promptly attended to.

Alderman Mitchell says, by way of postscript: "The young bride is quite handsome and intelligent. She likewise said her ungrateful husband had, on that morning, taken back her wedding ring, and a hat and shawl he had bought her, telling her at the same time that there were more and better women than herself to be found."

The Alderman thinks the young man is clearly in the wrong, and promises that his name shall, ere long, be made public in case he don't behave himself better.

A Quack Exposed—A Few Words About the Great Arabian Physician.

In an imposing edifice, located on one of our principal business thoroughfares, an individual has established an office for the treatment and cure of all diseases, from a penny whistle in the ear up to an organic weakness of the chest. He is no ordinary physician. Hundreds of varicolored posters decorating walls, fences and bulletin boards, together with fulsome puffs in some of our contemporaries, announce in no unmistakable way that he came from the far off land of many tribes, called Arabia, to minister to the medical wants of barbaric Americans. He has "visited many of the principal cities of the country and with wonder has filled admiring multitudes of patients who flocked to him that they might be healed." He possesses marvellous skill in "plucking out of the system the cause of disease as though it were the sting of the rattle snake." He is assisted by an interpreter, a venerable "pathologist," who has "grown old in a service surrounded by all forms of diseases," and whose large experience enables him to present a "faithful diagnosis" of each patient's condition to the "Great Arabian Physician," who promptly prescribes the "never-erring drugs of cure." Great, Oh Mahommed! are the works of thy slave.

So goes the play, so reads the bill. The ignorant bite. The foolish go in and get bitten. We have been to Arabia and cannot be imposed upon, and are not willing that our readers should. In the imposing oriental garbs and snake-entwined chair of the "Great Arabian Physician" sets a young man who has never seen Asia and whose knowledge of that country has been derived from colored maps or the popular "one thousand and one night's book of entertainment." In his professional quackery he forcibly reminds us of the ancient geographical divisions of the land he claims to represent. Felix, petrea, deserta. Happy in deluding, stone-hearted in deceiving, deserted when his patients have tried him. We happen to know that he neither hails from Mokka, Muscat or Jeddah; he has no claim on the nomadic Bedouins. He has neither the wild manners of the Aneizeh, the fire of the Beni Harb, the color of the Beni Korish, nor yet, as much as he approaches the sad sham, the characteristics of the Beni Shammar or Beni Sad. His practice is large, hundreds of persons weekly visiting his richly adorned apartments, and through a broken down physician of a neighboring borough, who acts as interpreter, make known the nature of their diseases to the Great Arab, pay a fee, receive a harmless drug, and retire to hunt out on the map of the world from whence their benefactor came. Doubtless their disease will remain, but if we mistake not a cure will be effected in one direction—they will be cured of their readiness to place confidence in itinerant physicians who come into our midst with high sounding titles attached to their names.

We make this exposition of the "Great Arab," not so much to stop his prosperous professional career, as to warn the public against all such humbugs. Generally the ignorant and poor suffer most from their operations, and it is about time that the press take a stand and endeavor to protect that class from the base imposition practiced on them by such shrewd swindlers.

Don't buy an Organ

Until you have heard that wonderful musical triumph, the Burdett Organ. The performance of even a child upon that perfect instrument is more touching and musically entrancing than the flourishes of practiced players upon most other organs. The effects of the vox humana (human voice) and celestial stops—a late invention and found [illegible] tion only in the Burdett organ—are touching and sympathetic [illegible] and comparable only to the [illegible] ing and tremulous tones drawn from their violins by an Ole Bull or a Vieux Temps. The Messrs. Kleber & Bro., 122 Wood street, have the sole agency, and will be glad, no doubt, to show these organ gems to all who may desire them.

The Series

Of Union meetings arranged by the pastors of the Methodist Episcopal Churches in this city and vicinity, which have been held during the past week in South Common Church, Allegheny, Rev. S. M. Hickman, pastor, have been well attended. This week the meetings will be held at the M. E. Church in Birmingham. The Sabbath services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Miller. Monday evening, by Dr. H. Miller. Tuesday evening, by Rev. J. F. Jones. Wednesday evening, by Rev. L. McGuire. Thursday evening, by Rev. T. S. Hodson. Friday evening, by Rev. M. Weekly. Week day evening service to begin at seven and a half o'clock.

Forcibly Entry and Threats.

On Saturday Mrs. Jane Dennison, of Hatfield, made information before Alderman Mitchell, of Lawrenceville, charging David Richards, of the Fifth ward, with forcibly entering her house and making threats against her person. She alleges that Richards represented that he was a constable, and had come to make a levy. He was very much intoxicated at the time. The defendant was arrasted and taken before the magistrate, when he waived a hearing and entered bail in one thousand dollars for his appearance at the next term of the Quarter Sessions.

Church Dedication.—The beautiful new church edifice, at Lincoln and Grant avenues, Allegheny, was dedicated yesterday, with appropriate ceremonies. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Hodge, although doing double work, being one of the Faculty in the Theological Seminary, has succeeded in establishing a church of great promise in one of the most interesting portions of the city.

A "Haunted House" in Allegheny.

Right in the midst of the busy whirl and rush of a great manufacturing town, surrounded by the life and light of happy homes of the fashionable of the city, it is a strange freak, an astounding and startling anomaly, to find a Haunted House. But the wonders of nature are not all known, nor are the fearful secrets of the unknown world easily divulged. In Allegheny city, on on one of the principle avenues, in one of the stateliest houses things happen that would dash to the earth all the philosophical theories of any but the strongest minded human being. That they are supernatural, who dare say? For nature is still a great closed book to man, and what is above her powers none can tell. But in this mansion queer doings are recorded as having occurred and as occurring every night. In one room not only are knockings heard, but they are of two distinct kinds, one as it were the tappings of slender fingers on the window panes, and the other the determined rappings of sizable knuckles on the panels of the mantel piece. Stranger, unsteady footsteps are heard passing through the corridors, and shrill singing noises are heard in the drawing rooms and upper chambers; music as from a piano is distinctly heard, when the only instrument of the kind in the house is closed and locked, and the wheezing of an asthmatic cough is one of the commonest noises heard in this house where every inmate is fortunate in the enjoyment of the best of health. Of course these manifestations are the source of much annoyance to the family, and of trouble with the servants; but as nothing unusual has been seen, and as the nerves of the family are strong, things go on their even way and the skeleton in the household is known to exist by but few persons. We have the story from a member of the family dwelling in the house, who however insists that if he but knew how to go about it all could be explained in a natural and perhaps common place manner. In these cases, however, (and they seem to be more numerous than formerly,) the great trouble always is, how to go about it.

Caught and Brought Back.

The Frenchman who endeavored to elope with a married woman of Temperanceville, but was prevented from so doing by the timely appearance of the frail woman's husband at the Union Depot, has been arrested and brought back to the city to answer a charge of seduction preferred against him by a respectable young lady of McKeesport. The offense with which she charges the Frenchman was committed last summer, but she lost all tidings of him until he turned up in connection with the Temperanceville elopement case. She arrived here, however, too late, as the Frenchman had got the matter "reconstructed" and left for the East. The father of the young girl still had hopes of capturing the destroyer of his daughter's happiness, and with this hope started officer Prescott, of Alderman McMasters' police force, to if possible, apprehend him. Prescott left this city on Monday last, and returned on Saturday, bringing with him his man, who he had arrested in Chester, Pa., without any difficulty whatever. Bail in the sum of fifteen hundred dollars was demanded by the magistrate, which was soon furnished and the accused released. The young lady at McKeesport has been informed of his arrest and will get here by to-day, when a hearing will be had.

Thrown Down Stairs.

On Saturday afternoon a man named Jeremiah Scanlon, while in the second story of McKay's liquor store, on Liberty street, got into a quarrel with another man about a girl. The "unpleasantness" led to a scuffle, and the result of the scuffle was that the other man proved the master of the situation. Scanlon was thrown from the head of the stairs to the first floor with a violence that broke his thigh. He was taken up and removed to Passavant's Infirmary, where he now is.

Very Proper.

Chief of Police Bowden, of Allegheny City, served printed notices upon all the merchants, on Saturday, that the obstructions on sidewalks must be removed, and that on a failure to comply with the notice the penalty provided by ordinance would be imposed by Mayor Drum. The "warning" had the desired effect, and on Sunday the sidewalks were almost entirely cleared of the obstructions. The good work could be extended to other localities with, perhaps, like gratifying results.

Dr. Edward L. Youmans.—On Thursday evening next, the citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will have an opportunity for the first time of hearing the eminent American scholar and writer Dr. Edward L. Youmans, of Yale College, deliver his celebrated and brilliant illustrated lecture on "The Chemistry of the Sunbeam." The Western papers pass the most unqualified eulogiums upon both the matter and manner of Dr. Youmans. The Cleveland Herald says: "Rapid in language, vehement in manner, vivid quaint and impressive, the lecturer held the most superficial and inattentive of his audience spell bound."

For the Poor.—One hundred loaves of bread will be distributed to the poor of this city, at the office of the Valley Stove Works of Wm. McKee & Son, 301 Liberty street, on Tuesday and Friday of each week, at four o'clock in the afternoon. It is a good work well begun, and we hope the members of the firm may not lose their reward.

Ice Breaking.—Steam tugs have been employed on the Youghiogheny in breaking up the ice, in order to guard against damage in case of a sudden break up. Some of the coal already loaded in barges is being run out, preparatory to resuming operations at the works located on that river.

Masonic.—A new Chapter, called the Allegheny Chapter H. R. A., was constituted at Masonic Hall, Saturday evening, at half past six o'clock. The ceremonies were conducted by Thomas Davage, D. D. G. H. P.

A Lady Poisoned in Third Avenue.

Mrs. C. Parker, residing at 322 Third avenue, N. Y., being engaged in the laudable operation of cleaning house, was so unfortunate as to get a small particle of Paris green into a wound on her finger. Great agony was the result. To prevent the virus entering her body, the physicians had her arm tightly corded. The terrible pain made her almost frantic. Getting worse very fast under the medical treatment, she resolved, as a last resort, to go to Dr. Wolcott's office, No. 170 Chatham Square, N. Y., and 622 Arch street, Philadelphia; in the Drug Store, where all pain of every nature was advertised as being removed free of charge. The ligature was removed. Dr. Wolcott applied his curious remedy, Pain Paint, with a brush. Mrs. Parker went home entirely free from pain and has had no attack since. In all human probability she would have died in a few hours unless immediate relief had come to her rescue. The Doctor is well known to the whole community. He has occupied his present place of business nearly six years. How well he has succeeded is patent to everybody. He established his old standard remedy for Catarrh and Colds in the Head many years ago, the Instant Pain Annihilator, the present sales of which are over 100,000 bottles each month. All bottles are sold to every body under a guarantee, and every patient is supplied with it most distinctly. The Pain Paint, his new remedy, has at present a larger sale than any medicine ever offered to the public in so short a time, and has caused more wonder and consternation among physicians than anything ever before offered. When all medical skill has utterly failed, Pain Paint has saved thousands of hopeless cases already. He keeps his office open till 9 o'clock at night, (not open Sundays.) He tells the public emphatically not to touch any of his remedies unless in pure white outside wrappers.

A paste of a fine green color is obtained, which may be diluted to the proper degree of fluidity by means of essence of turpentine or benzole, and employed for calico printing.

Read and Remember.

Not temporary, but lasting and effective cures are secured in a most wonderful degree by that potent life renewing compound sold under the name of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher. We have published in the GAZETTE during the last week some of the most astounding cures ever recorded of any medicine. That of Mr. Titzell, of Allegheny City, published in a recent issue, is one of them. In his case the whole system was worn to a skeleton, with hardly the power of life and motion. The use of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher imparted tone to the stomach and full power to the digestive system, and in that way imbued the needed material to repair the wasting frame. The decayed bones were discharged and their places supplied with new, and each tissue and organ put on renewed and wholesome vigor.

Dr. Keyser does not claim for his Blood Searcher any secret. Any physician who desires to investigate its potency will be made acquainted with its composition. He does claim that it is the best tonic alterative yet discovered, for he has been able to cure with it when eighteen hundred pages of the Dispensary did not disclose a remedy. He claims for the discovery of the roots and herbs of which it is composed the completest combination of valuable blood remedies within human knowledge. It really may seem strange that under the action of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher the whole body should start to newness of life and vigor; but it is no stranger than the fact that out of the same blood that circles in the veins, bone and brain, and hair, and muscle, and even the finger and toe nails, are recreated and reproduced. The many extraordinary cures performed by it here, within almost speaking distance of the Doctor's office, entitles it to the appellation of the most wonderful medicine of modern times.

Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at the Doctor's Great Medical Depot, 140 Wood street.

GENUINE
GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,
Manufactured by PETER SQUIRE, 277 Oxford Street, London.
This Soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest Soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine, (40 per cent.) It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin. On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common Soaps; for delicate skins it is the only Soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins, where the irritation produced by ordinary Soaps causes so much inconvenience. It is the most agreeable Shaving [illegible] used, leaving the skin soft and [illegible] Soaps usually sold as Glycerine [illegible] or no Glycerine. It is only [illegible] the tongue to the surface an[illegible] ill be distinguished by the swe[illegible] Agent, SIMON J[illegible]th & Smithfield streets. Also [illegible]'S VIENNA GLYCERINE SOAP. THE FREE RAILROAD BILL.

Some days ago the House of Representatives at Harrisburg passed a Free Railroad bill. It is a good one—liberal in spirit, yet guarded in terms. The Senate also, has a Free Railroad bill—an excellent one—though we prefer that of the House. When the House bill reached the Senate, a motion was made to substitute the Senate bill for it; and this motion, still pending, will come up again to-morrow night. It is probable the substitution may be made.

This makes it important to understand the main differences between the two. The Senate bill provides that books for subscription to stock shall be kept open till the whole capital shall be subscribed—the stock being equal to at least ten thousand a mile. The effect of this provision is manifest. No charter can be issued until ten thousand dollars a mile on the line contemplated shall be pledged. Another clause restricts the amount that may be borrowed in any case to a sum equal to the capital paid up. The effect of this, also, is apparent. One half the money to build any line of railroad under this bill must be raised by subscription. In all other particulars the Senate bill is as good as the House bill—the earnest friends of Freedom in Railroad Building being judges.

That there are practical difficulties in the way of framing an equitable Free Railroad Law every man knows who has fully considered the matter in detail. It is easy to affirm that all persons who desire to invest moneys in making railways shall have an equal and free chance; but when the rights of existing corporations, of individual holders of real estate, and of the public generally come to be considered, diversities of opinion are elicited among men who are anxious to attain a common end. Hence, we have not seen proper to denounce the Legislature, or either branch thereof, in advance of ultimate action. It is much safer to wait, see what is done, and for what reasons, than to start prematurely and without valid occasion.

THE Legislature will deserve commendation if it actually adjourns by the 24th of March, which is the day now fixed upon by the Senate.

◆

SEVERAL of the Philadelphia newspapers denounce the Petroleum Inspectorship bill in most vigorous terms, as tending to drive trade from that city to New York. The marvel is not that they condemn it, but that they did not commence sooner.

◆

TO-MORROW evening W. O. Hughart, Esq., the able and efficient President of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, will address the Council of Baltimore, which holds special session to hear him, on the relations between that city and the company.

◆

IT is natural enough, under the circumstances, that the President should aim a blow at General GRANT, but he miscalculated when he thought it possible to make Lieutenant General SHERMAN an instrument for the accomplishment of his revenge.

◆

MR. TRAIN is anxious to engage President JOHNSON to collect his bill of $100,000 against the British Government, which he claims as damages for his arrest. Getting that amount, in that easy way, would be a nice speculation. Many men would like to be arrested once a month regularly for a good deal less money.

THE talk about trying Gen. GRANT for insubordination is all moonshine. He was not made Secretary of War by reason of being a soldier, but because he was a citizen, and eminently fit for the position. The office is purely a civil one, and has very rarely, and only for brief periods, been held by individuals connected with the army.

THE Expansionists are likely to have their way, at least, to some extent, in Congress. Western business will demand more currency, and the politicians hardly dare refuse, pending the Presidential election, whatever their personal conviction may be. Indeed, it is an essential idea in representative governments that the will of the people shall be executed.

◆

THERE seems to be some misapprehension at Harrisburg, and, perhaps, elsewhere, as to our acceptance of Mr. ERRETT's vindication of Mr. GEORGE CONNELL, in the matter of the Petroleum Inspectorship bill. We, therefore, desire to say, that we accept Mr. ERRETT's explanation as fully exculpating Mr. CONNELL, though we do not recant or modify any one of our denunciations of the bill itself, or of the swindle which the concoctors thereof intended to accomplish by means of it.

WESTERN HOUSE OF REFUGE.

The officers of the House of Refuge have made their fourteenth annual report, and it is one of unusual interest. We find, in referring to the report of the Treasurer, that the expenditures last year were $4,023 less than the income, which was $81,990.74. Of this money nearly fourteen thousand dollars went for salaries; between eleven and twelve thousand for repairs, which were necessary; twenty-nine thousand for supplies; sixteen thousand for loans, and the remainder for various smaller expenses. At the opening of the year 1867 there were 255 inmates, 38 of whom were colored; 139 were discharged during the year; 125 were received; and there are now 241 in the asylum; 32 of whom are colored; 188 boys and 33 girls. Of those received during the year, 80 are from Allegheny county; 5 returned voluntarily; 4 are from Beaver county, and the rest are from the various counties of this district.

Since the opening of the institution there have been 1,923 inmates; 1,374 boys and 559 girls. Of these 1,376 were from Allegheny county. The offence for which most of these were committed was incorrigibility; but there were also 400 for larceny, 243 for vagrancy, 126 for vicious conduct, 67 for prostitution, 15 for intemperance, 5 for burglary, 5 for assault and battery, 8 for horse stealing; 2 each for arson, embezzling, forgery, rape, attempt to commit rape; and one each for attempted suicide, attempted burglary, false pretense, and passing counterfeit money, thus showing an incongruous and sickening array of crime, from which it is wonderful the superintendent has been able to bring such order, precision and virtue, although the inmates are under physical subjection. The final disposition of such offenders, is rather of interest; 625 of them have been released on parole; 476 more indentured, 269 returned to their friends, 66 escaped, 2 of the boys became insane, and one of the girls married, 34 died, 27 enlisted, 18 more sent to the almshouse, 10 became of age and were therefore discharged, 5 were taken out on writs of habeas corpus, and 110 were discharged as unfit subjects, 362 of them were foreigners, and 1,571 were Americans, the greater number of whom were born in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia.

The greatest number was committed at the age of forteen; more above that age than below it.

$2,126,59 was received for the work of the boys during the year 1867. Deducting cost of material and overseer's salary. The net proceeds of this labor was $702,13.

The girls were just as industrious as the boys, though their work is not valued in the report; but 2,000 stockings were darned, 3,000 shirts repaired, 450 shirts were made, 300 jackets and 300 pants were made, and a large number of other garments, sheets, towels, etc., were made and repaired, besides washing, ironing, and general house work.

The health of the institution has been remarkably good. There has never been an epidemic in the house. Five deaths occurred during last year, all of diseases contracted before going into the asylum. The schools have been remarkably successful, and benefitted solidly most of the pupils.

There is a library in the institution, consisting of 1,100 volumes, 177 of which were received during 1867. Besides this there is a separate library of 290 volumes for the use of the girls. The reports of all the officers are highly satisfactory, and the prosperous management of such an institution as this is always a subject of congratulation, as the number of outlaws is reduced and good citizens are multiplied thereby.

IN MEMORIA

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Would not this world be a better world if the Press gave more space to the record of virtue, and less to that of vice? If, instead of police reports, the sayings and doings of the vicious and depraved, our papers brought us accounts of good deeds done, good words spoken, good lives lived, and good hopes of better words and deeds and lives in the great future, would they not furnish a better aliment to the soul, while the body is refeshed by the morning and evening meals? I think the answer is "yes," and that we might as well hope to form healthy bodies by eating decayed food as healthy souls by feeding on the garbage of crime. Hoping and believing that you agree with me, I ask unusual space for a record of the life of one unknown beyond the circle of her personal influence; but who deserves more than passing mention.

On last Sabbath we left Miss Minerva Hawkins on a hill side, in the Allegheny Cemetery, under the damp earth and weeping skies; and as flowers shall spring out of her newly made grave, when Spring shall breathe thereon, so should beautiful acts arise from the memory of her past life, when contemplation broods upon it. She is the daughter of Colonel Wm. G. Hawkins, of Wilkins township, and was born, lived and died on a hill overlooking the Monongehala. She was thirty-four when she died, and had never been three times out of the State, and seldom passed a night out of her father's house; but the influence of her quiet, home life has left enduring results; and all good lives are in their nature, itinerant preachers, traveling away into the coming ages. No one ever knew her speak or act a falsehood. No ignoble thought ever found a lodgment in her brain; her heart overflowed with the most unselfish and tenderest affection. It caused her an effort to speak to her father or mother without a tone of endearment, and while in the last struggle, her dying eyes would turn to them, and she would repeat

"Ah, you dear, dear papa, you best and dearest of mothers!"

But her only request was that they would join her in heaven. She was a marked illustration of the truth, "Form corresponds to essence." The Creator makes no mistakes in His labels, and in the fall the weakness and warpings of the human soul divine are each and all plainly marked by the defects and deformities of its outer covering. The top of her head, including the brow, lips and nose, was of a regal type of beauty undreamed of by the old masters when they found their Venuses, Psyches and Madonnas; but from the nostrils downward all the lines of her person fell below the standard; and thus it was that the glorious ideals of the superb, conceiving brain never could find enduring expression through the executing lip or hand. Years of careful training failed to teach this to call from the piano, or that to utter the tones for which the listening ear was waiting, and once she turned from her instrument exclaiming:

"I am disgusted with myself," but almost instantly added, with a cheerfulness which would have been thought sacreligious by those who esteem devotion and dolor as synonymous, "Never mind; up there I will have lips to praise Him, and hands to strike the lyre until the arches of Heaven shall ring."

She knew that the progressive soul outgrows its covering and bursts away into that spiritual body prepared to meet its wants. She was brought up in the Presbyterian faith, and united with the church some ten years ago. There were personal reasons which would have deterred most persons from that step, and when these were spoken of she replied:

"It is Christ's church; not their's. It is my Father's house. Shall I permit any one to shut me out of it? Christ did not stay on the outside of the temple because the money changers were in it. He drove them out, and if I cannot do that I can maintain my own right to be there, in spite of the money changers."

Rev. Mr. Fulton, of the United Presbyterian church, was one of her most valued friends, and her eyes used to sparkle with delight in recounting how she had caught him once, on an ordinary evening visit, and got him to talk until the clock struck eleven, when he thought it was but nine.

"Ah, she said," what a grand treat it was, to hear him talk as if he were inspired, for a whole evening, on the divinity of our Lord. I had been thinking and thinking of it, so much, that great mystery, and he made it all so plain."

Another of her friends is Miss Kenney, a religious enthusiast of the Catholic faith, who lived on the opposite side of the river. Each was the last surviving daughter of wealthy parents, with loving brothers to cherish her: the duties of their position were the subject of many anxious discussions. One argued that these lay principally at home, in living the nurse and stay of the declining years of father and mother, the companion and counsellor of brothers and that love to our Father in Heaven is best shown by honoring our parents on earth. The other heldthat as prayer is the breath of the world, which must fall into chaos without it, and so many people neglect it, it becomes necessary that some devote their whole time to this duty, and so become the lungs of the race. Their difference of opinion was irreconcilable; but their friendship never faltered and Miss Kenney's last visit, before going into a close convent, in Cincinnati, was to Minerva, when, with prayers and tears, they parted, each to pursue her separate road to a blessed immortality.

She had another friend on whom had develved the double duty of filling the place of both parents to an only child—of winning bread and baking it—and to her her steady exhortation was, 'stay with your child. Engage in no employment that will leave her to the care of others. It is better she and you, should have only the necessaries of life, while she can come to you, at any moment, with her sorrows and find sympathy, while you guard her spirit from wounds of neglect or unkindness, and taints of sin, than to have fame and fortune, and leave this your highest duty undone."

When reminded of the fields "white unto harvest' and the fewness of the laborers—of the wrong and outrage with which earth is filled, and the duty of taking a place in the ranks of that army which is invading the kingdom of darkness she would reply.

"If God had appointed you to a duty which would call you from home, He would not have sent you a child. No one can fill your place to her in your hourly care of her, but some one else can do that other work."

With this strong sense of the obligation of home duties, she so entwined herself into the lives of her younger brothers that her influence was an ever-present motive to larger and nobler thoughts and actions. She had that family pride which is an incentive to honorable exertion, as an oath is an added obligation to the imperative duty of truthfulness. Yet she was a favorite with the poor; and none was so humble or debased that she had not, for him, a kindly greeting.

When a child, she was my pupil; when a woman, my friend and confidant. For more than a decade of long, dark years her friendship has been as true and steady as that of the North Star to the hunted slave. When my path was darkest that lamp shone the brightest, and no cloud ever floated in between. Sometimes, for weeks together, I occupied a second bed in her room, and she never laid her head upon her pillow until kneeling she had committed all her cares to Him who careth for us. Her bed faced a window of which the blind was always open and the curtain drawn back. When I spoke of the injury this might do her eyes, she said:

"I cannot sleep otherwise. I must see the stars. I always wake in the night to look at them. They seem to be God's eyes watching me, and I look down into my soul to see what they have seen all day."

So pervaded was her life with the sense of the all-seeing eye, and the all-hearing ear, that I think she never spoke a word for which she need have blushed if her earthly father had been her unseen auditor. She has said to me often, "Now rest until after dinner and then tell me what you know." This was not a demand for news, but for any new thought of, or insight into any of the mysteries of the life that now is, or of that which is to come; and I have never met any one who would so quickly detect a beautiful thought in a mass of rubbish. She was so entirely at home in the contemplation of the sublime truths of religion, that gloom or sadness, which are born of strangeness, had no connection with them in her mind. When it was "time to dance" none joined more merrily in the cotillion, and her sabbath school scholars could never have learned from her that laughing was a sin. With her strong love of life, and capacity for enjoyment, and with her convictions that she was destined to long years of labor, she yielded to the delusion of hope common to consumptives, and long after her physicians had ceased to hope, confidently expected to recover; but when she knew that she was called, she put aside her pleasant life, with as little show of regret as she might have done a festive garment. When she came to Jordan it had overflowed its banks, and for thirty-six hours she struggled in the dark waters without a murmur, then said:

"I am so tired, so tired."

"You will soon find rest," was the weeping reply.

"Oh, yes; but the river is very, very rocky," then pausing she added: "But Jesus is at the helm."

She continued to talk, but the dashing of the waves made her words unintelligible, and in a few moments she was on the other shore.

—The Washington Constitutional Union tells the following on General Butler: During the reading of Mr. Dickens, on Tuesday night, at Carroll Hall, a coincidence occurred there that turned quite a titter, if not a laugh, on General Butler. It occurred during the reading or description of "Bob Sawyer's party at his lodgings," from Pickwick, in the quarrel scene between Noddy and Gunter.

"I request that you'll favor me with your card, sir," said Mr. Noddy.

"I'll do nothing of the kind, sir," replied Mr. Gunter.

"Why, not sir?" inquired Mr. Noddy.

"Because you'll stick it up over your chimney peice, and delude your visitors into the false belief that a gentleman has been to see you, sir," replied Mr. Gunter.

"Sir, a friend of mine shall wait on you in the morning," said Noddy.

"Sir, I'm very much obliged to you for the caution, and I'll leave particular directions with the servant to lock up the spoons," replied Mr. Gunter.

Previous to this the hero of Fort Fisher was all attention, with outstretched neck, as though fearful of losing a single word, but when it came to the spoons, his head bobbed down like a terrapin's being jerked into its shell, and an unmistakable titter and smile went over the audience, as though the spoon reference was very apropos

—In Switzerland, at Neufchatel, there is an observatory organized on an extensive scale and provided with the very finest instruments. Besides purely scientific results, it renders immense service to chronometer makers, by enabling them to produce watches which are every day becoming more perfect. This is important to the branch of industry in question, which can only exist by constant improvement. Prizes are given to makers whose watches approach as nearly as possible to perfection. To give an idea of the wonderful precision that has been obtained in this branch of industry, a marine chronometer lately tested gave the mean variations from day to day, in two months' trial, sec. 0.164. Common watches become more perfect every year. In sixty-seven watches tested since 1866 the mean variation was only three-quarters of a second in twenty-four hours. In 1862, the mean variation was sec. 1.61; 1863, 1.28; 1864, 1.27; 1865, 0.88; 1866, 0.84. On more than three-quarters of the chronometers observed in 1866 the mean variation was less than half a second. These practical results show the importance of such observations as those of Neufchatel.

—A strange circumstance in connection with the English expedition to Abyssinia now absorbs the attention of veterinary surgeons in Europe. On arriving at Abdala, the cavalry horses and transport mules were taken with a sudden illness, which the chief physician of the expeditionary corps asserts to have its seat in the heart. So far it has proved incurable. Out of four hundred and seventy-five horses landed at Zoulla, October 25, one hundred and twenty died, and forty had to be left behind. About two hundred and fifty mules had fallen victims to the disease. This leaves about one-third of the vanguard dismounted. The natives assert that that region is mortal to horses; they never bring horses there.

ONE CERTAIN AND POSITIVE

PROOF THAT

DR. SARGENT'S BACK-ACHE PILLS

ARE NO HUMBUG, but that they do relieve and cure such diseases as they are recommended for, is that every person who has used them speak so highly in their favor. We are daily in receipt of certificates from well known and reliable citizens, who can be called upon in case the genuineness of the certificate is doubted. The following is from a gentleman who was cured by them, and who has recommended them to others, who likewise have derived benefit from them. A trial of these Pills can do no harm, as they contain nothing injurious, being entirely vegetable.

GEO. A. KELLY—Dear Sir: I was so badly afflicted with pain in the kidneys that I could hardly turn myself in bed, and breathing also caused me severe pain. I had given up hopes of ever getting well again, when I bought a box of DR. SARGENT'S BACK-ACHE PILLS, which at once relieved me, and I believe they have been the means of the cure. I have also recommended them to others where like complaints were made, and they have in every case proved efficacious. I cheerfully recommend them to any one suffering from this trouble, as I believe they are the best medicine for this class of diseases I have ever heard of. Frightful Prophecies

CONCERNING THE END OF ALL THINGS are made by religious enthusiasts; and, on the other hand, philosophers insist that the centre of the Earth is a mass of fire—that the poles of the Earth will one day be at the Equator, and that the Sun is gradually fading! Talk like this is very terrible; but, pending such wholesale calamities, it will be as well for each member of society to take care of his or her health, and leave the rest to Providence.

The end comes prematurely to all who neglect the preservation of that inestimable blessing. Suffer liver disease, dyspepsia, chronic constipation or any other ailment to take its course unchecked, and it will assuredly shorten life. It cannot be said that the means of protecting the system against the predisposing causes of disease are withheld. The constitutions and physique of the least robust may be so strengthened and fortified by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as to render them all but invulnerable, not only to the attacks of epidemic disorders, but also to the ordinary complaints which prevail in all countries and at all seasons. If the immense importance of PROTECTIVE MEDICATION were universally understood, this incomparable vegetable antidote, which is already the most popular tonic in the world, would everywhere be classed among the staples of life, and no family would dare to be without it. The time may arrive when this will be the case, for every year adds hundreds of thousands to the list of those who use it.

Chronic Diseases.

The functions of the human body give way, usually one at a time. A disordered liver, or a slight irritation of the bronchial tubes, an obstruction in the skin or of the renal organs, are sure to be followed by pains and aches in various parts, according to the extent of the organic or functional injury. A man afflicted with dyspepsia will soon find more than the stomach at fault. The food that he swallows fails to renew the natural wear and waste, the worn out matter is deposited in some nook or cranney, where it causes irritation or pain, when it ought to be thrown off and carried out of the system. Hundreds and thousands of just such sufferers have been relieved and restored to health and vigor by a few bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which not only imparts tone to the stomach and digestive organs, but likewise enriches the blood with the elementary principles needful to the restoration of the vital energy of the system. Be careful when you ask for it to get DR. KEYSER'S, for that is the kind, and the only kind, that has cured the numberless cases of disordered and broken constitutions. It was that which cured Mr. Boyd. It was that which cured John Titsell. It was that which cured Margaret McFarland. It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher which cured all the old chronic cases which we have published from time to time in these columns. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher has cured more cases of chronic diseases than any medicine of recent origin. Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at the Doctor's great medicine store, No. 140 WOOD STREET.

1786. PROSPECTUS. 1868.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential Canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses. In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the GAZETTE have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various Departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

The proceedings of the State Legislature, at its forthcoming session, will also prove interesting, inasmuch as many questions of importance will come up for legislation. The GAZETTE will keep at the State Capital, during the entire session, an intelligent and faithful correspondent, who will promptly report the proceedings by mail and telegraph.

It is the only political journal of Pittsburgh which faithfully reflects and steadily advocates the principles held by the Union Republican Party, and interpreted by a loyal Congress.

It gives as much reading matter as any paper sold at twelve dollars per annum, while its price is but eight, being the cheapest as well as the largest newspaper in the Commonwealth.

With the enlargement, every department has been strengthened. The high character of its editorial columns will be maintained, and all questions of public importance will be fearlessly discussed.

The news department will be kept up to the requirements of the day, and in condensed items will faithfully mirror all the transactions worthy of note of the City, State, Country and world at large, and maintain for the GAZETTE the reputation of a live, enterprising and first class family and commercial newspaper.

Ample space has been reserved for market reports, which can at all times be relied upon as correct, as the current quotations for manufactures, farm products, cattle, &c., &c., are daily gathered from actual sales, by faithful and efficient reporters.

The river news is collected with care, and will prove a very interesting feature of the GAZETTE.

The financial news department has been placed in charge of an able and experienced banker, who will render it quite an attractive and useful specialty to bankers, brokers and business men generally.

The religious department will receive the attention due its importance, and will be so conducted as to be pleasing and readable to members of all religious denominations.

The agricultural, art, science, literary, personal and other departments of the paper will be conducted in a manner which will prove satisfactory to the reader.

TERMS OF THE DAILY GAZETTE.

Three Months	$2.00.
Six Months	4.00.
One Year	8.00.

Delivered in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and all the adjacent Boroughs for 15 cents per week, payable to Carriers.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the daily, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and in commercial circles in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia are without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our Agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and not allowing their present ones to expire, as we are anxious that none of our readers should be deprived of a week's news. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and Merchants are requested to act as Agents.

TERMS FOR THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

Single Subscriber	$1.50.
Clubs of Five	1.25.
Clubs of Ten	1.15.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS'

SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors, are made dangerous by being overheated, and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

SONNET.

BY HENRY C. BLOUNT.

There is a serpent whose envenomed bite
Is rarely healed, yet, who feels its tooth,
If he survives, oft goes again, forsooth,
Unto its haunts, as if it were delight
To feel its bite again, until the blight
Of poverty and woe reveals the truth
Of this vile fiend, so loved, yet so uncouth;
It to one's interest so perverts the sight
That enemies are thought to be one's friend's,
And friends are seen in light of enemies,
While blessings slip from the finger-ends,
And character on fleeting pinion flies!
What is this monster that such power extends?
Its name is Debt!—avoiding it be wise.

STATE NEWS.

—Hon. Samuel Hutchins, of Waterford, Erie county, died last Saturday, aged 81 years.

—The Columbia county Democrat is no friend of the clergy, whom it calls "the bloodhounds of Zion."

—The citizens of California, on the Monongahela river, have formed a literary society, which is flourishing.

—The Black Swan is giving concerts in the eastern part of the State. When last heard from she was at Norristown.

—On Wednesday evening next, Weston is to walk at Titusville, an honor which he properly thinks Pittsburgh is too unappreciative to receive.

—Mr. Adam Hoch, of Kittanning, an aged and respected citizen of that place, died very suddenly on Sunday morning while in the act of stirring the fire.

—It is said that the losers by the burning of Wayne Hall, in Erie, are going to sue the city for damages, because there was no water in the reservoirs.

—Mr. C. F. Walker, a farmer residing near Benford's store, Somerset county, has just received five sheep of the Infantado breed, for which he paid $500.

—Mercury was down to twenty-two degrees below zero, on the 8th inst., in Clearfield, but he found it so cold that he came up again. Why shouldn't Alaska be admitted after that?

—A small boy, son of Mr. Jacob Qualp, of Greenfield, fell through a hole in the ice on the Monongahela river, a few days ago, and was drowned. The body was found a few hours afterwards.

—A strange and fatal disease is raging among the cattle in some parts of the State. The Hannover Spectator says that in that neighborhood it is particularly virulent, mentioning one township where twelve head of cattle have died, and that all the rest of the herd, some twenty in number, are suffering from it.

—The burgess of New Castle has prohibited the sale of what he calls vicious newspapers, meaning the disgusting spawn of the animalculae existing in the rotten brains of some godless and lascivious wretches in some of the eastern cities. This action on the part of the worthy Chief Magistrate of New Castle is timely and commendable.

—The ladies of the Oil City Episcopal congregation are to have a promenade festival. Pictures are to be awarded severally to the prettiest, the wittiest, the pleasantest, and the most amiable ladies present. A first class chance is afforded for some of our young ladies to take a trip to the oil regions and furnish their picture galleries at the same time.

—Messrs. Johnson and Harold, public spirited citizens of Cambria, presented 150 books as prizes to the pupils of the night school in that borough. A very pleasant meeting of the pupils and the friends of the school was held, and speeches and songs were in order, when the fall of a stove pipe gave rise to such a panic that fearful results were anticipated. Providentially, however, the house was emptied without accident.

—A fire occurred on Monday last in Uniontown, resulting in the destruction of a considerable amount of valuable property, including the McClelland House, the office of L. D. Beall, Esq., a dwelling house, a barber shop, and a store. A large amount of whisky was distributed among the firemen after their efforts had been successful, and a free fight resulted. The Genius of Liberty thus reports it:

They fit and fit,
And gouged and bit,
And struggled in the mud,
Until the ground,
For miles around,
Was kivered with their blood.

INDUSTRIAL.

—A co-operative stove foundry has been started in Somerset, Mass.

—Ship building in England was never so dull before. Ships can be built for less than for years past.

—The Workingmen's party of Baltimore is organizing vigorously and bids fair to become a power in the Monumental city.

—All the workmen of one of the Woonsocket Mills have joined the strikers, but the reason has not yet been announced.

—There was a slight decrease in the production of petroleum last month, the average daily production having been ten thousand six hundred barrels.

—The strikes of last summer resulted in a loss of over one million of dollars to the working men of Chicago, of whom 25,000 are now out of employment.

—Two hundred operatives, principally skilled work people, have been thrown out of employment by the stoppage of the Belkman mills, in Lake Village, New Hampshire.

—23,660,401 passengers were carried over the railroads of Massachusetts during the year 1867. During the five years ending December, 1867, there were 98,314,914 passengers.

—A New York gentleman has offered to be one of twenty men to take $20,000,000 of the stock of the Erie Road, provided Vanderbilt will consent to control the administration.

—The Commercial Convention in Boston adopted a resolution in favor of inviting the "importation of laborors" to this country instead of importing the products of their labor.

—During the five years of the existence of the underground railway in London it has carried some eighty millions of passengers, at an average speed of sixteen miles an hour, without losing a single life or injuring a passenger.

—The different railways which have placed postoffice cars on their lines, have through a delegation, applied to the Congressional Committee on Postoffices for more compensation, as at the present rates they find it impossible to run these cars without loss.

—The journeymen shoemakers had a mass meeting last week in New York. Speeches were made in English, German and French, and resolutions were passed protesting against the proposed twenty per cent. reduction of the present wages, and preparations made for a strike if necessary.

—The Ohio Railroads have made one step in the right direction. For the better protection of passengers, they have on all through trains abandoned the use of coal oil lamps, and supplied their places with candles, which are less brilliant, when lighted, but probably safer in case of accident.

—On Tuesday of last week an iron firm in Cincinnati advertised for four workmen in their line of business. More than five hundred men applied for the position before ten o'clock that morning, and the number had risen to one thousand before the close of the day, a fact which shows what an unusual number of men are now unemployed in large cities.

—"Excepting in the memorably hard winter of 1854-'55 destitution was never so general in this city as at present," says the New York Evening Post, and reports from various benevolent individuals and societies, speak of the most extraordinary privations endured, and of the unparalleled numbers of Americans found needy. Mechanics nightly seek shelter at the station houses, a thing unknown before in the annals of the police.

PAR AND INTEREST.

THE

Central Pacific Railroad

The best and principal portion of the

NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

is being rapidly carried forward by an unprecedented working force; and it is reasonably certain that the CONTINUOUS OVERLAND RAILROAD CONNECTION FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO WILL BE MADE IN 1870.

The United States Government furnishes, upon a subordinate and contingent lien, half the means for constructing the Main Stem Line; and besides an absolute grant of 12,800 acres of valuable public lands per mile, the Central Pacific Railroad Company have received from California sources, donations and concessions worth more than $3,000,000. The available resources of this Company are therefore abundant for the purpose, amounting to $77,000,000 on the first 726 miles of the Line, including Loans secured by a First Mortgage upon the whole property, to the same amount only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds.

The results already attained, although under comparatively unfavorable circumstances, afford substantial ground for believing the CENTRAL PACIFIC to be the Most Favored, Productive and Valuable Railroad Enterprise in the Country.

In consequence of the large and rapidly increasing demand, the price of these Bonds has been advanced, and the Company are now offering for sale a limited amount of their

First Mortgage Six Per Cent. Bonds,

Principal and interest payable in GOLD COIN, in sums of $1,000 each, at par and accrued interest from January 1st, in currency.

These Bonds, it is believed, possess the elements of safety, reliability and profit, in a greater degree, than any other class of Corporate Securities now offered, and are therefore very desirable for steady investments of surplus capital. Investors will bear in mind the following advantages:

I. They are the first mortgage on one of the most valuable and productive lines of railroad in the world.

II. The actual earnings from local business in 1867 were more than four times the annual interest engagements.

III. The hard part of the road is now done, and the prospects of rapid completion are favorable.

IV. The Company have liberal subsidies, which enable them to prosecute the work with great vigor.

V. The management has been exceedingly prudent and frugal.

VI. There is already a large and growing settlement on the completed and graded line.

VII. The lands promise to be of immense value, 37,688 acres having been already sold.

VIII. Both principal and interest are explicitly made payable in gold coin.

IX. Both the aggregate amount of issue and their standing in Europe will insure for them continued activity and a high rank among standard securities.

At this time they yield nearly

Nine per cent. upon the Investment.

Holders of Government Securities have an opportunity of exchanging them for Central Pacific Bonds, bearing an equal rate of interest, with the principal abundantly secured, and of realizing a profit of ten to fifteen per cent. in addition.

Orders sent with the funds through responsible Banks or Express Companies will receive prompt attention. Bonds sent by return Express, to any address in the United States, at our cost. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, Maps, &c., furnished on application at the office of the Railroad Company,

M., will be sold at auction, by order of Orphans' Court, on an outlot on the Eastern border of the Borough of Beaver, containing about TEN ACRES, a lot of ground with a beautiful grove, the residue well improved and planted with apple and peach trees, and a variety of small fruits and shrubbery. The improvements comprise a fine two story BRICK MANSION HOUSE with four rooms on each floor, exclusive of kitchen, wash house and coal house. A good well and cistern and large barn.

The location is one of the most picturesque and beautiful in Beaver county, commanding a fine view of the Ohio and Beaver rivers, and of the several villages that cluster near their confluence. It is also eminently eligible with reference to Schools, Churches, Railroad Stations, &c. Probably no place now in the market combines so many conveniences and attractions for a gentleman that desires for his residence a spot at the same time secluded from the noise and din of business and quickly and easily accessible from Pittsburgh. This property was the homestead of Charles Stone, Esq., late of Beaver. Terms, which will be easy, made known at time of sale.

Persons visiting this Estate will be attended to and all questions answered by Capt. D. B. TONE, Executor of the estate of Charles Stone, residing on adjoining lot. ja31:k53

Quarter Sessions—Full Bench.

SATURDAY, Feb. 15.—The following sentences were pronounced:

Andrew Kimling, convicted of selling liquor, was first called. Gotleib Tuetsch, the prosecutor, alleged that the defendant, who keeps a "shop" in the lower part of the borough of McKeesport, had sold spirituous liquors on the Sabbath, thus violating the act of Assembly. He was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and the costs, and to undergo fifteen days imprisonment in the county jail.

John Apple, convicted of assault and battery on oath of the same prosecutor, was next called. The parties are brothers-in-law, and the difficulty out of which the suit grew occurred in November last in South Pittsburgh. In passing sentence the Court remarked that although no words would justify an assault still the provocation given defendant was great. He was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty five dollars and costs.

W. J. Robinson, who plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Frank Tomer, also a charge of assault and battery preferred by Roger O'Mara, and who was charged with making threats of violence to officer Eagan, was next called to the bar. On the first indictment he was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and the costs of prosecution, on the second a fine of ten dollars and costs, and to give bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his good behavior for one year. Robinson is Captain of the Neptune Steam Fire Engine Company.

General F. H. Collier asked the Court to allow bail to be entered for the appearance of Robert Stewart, confined in jail on a charge of embezzlement, preferred by the Adams Express Company of this city. The defendant, prior to his arrest, was in the employ of the Company as a driver, and while delivering goods throughout the city it is alleged appropriated about three hundred dollars of the money received to his own use. He was brought into Court and released on $500 bail.

THE ARSON CASE.

The Scahill-Hughes arson case was concluded. No verdict had been rendered at noon, and the Court adjourned till two o'clock. At that hour the jury still had not agreed, and there was a further adjournment till six o'clock. Upon reassembling it was made known that no verdict had yet been reached, and upon consultation it was determined to adjourn till Monday morning, by which time the jury will have come to a unanimous conclusion, as required.

Abandonment of a Young Married Woman by Her Husband—Accompanied by Her Brother She Goes to Cincinnati—In a Fit of Despondency She Seeks Relief in a Brothel.

We clip the following item of local interest from the columns of the Cincinnati Enquirer:

Within the past few months a young married woman who bears the name of Cora Parsons, came to this city, accompanied by her brother, from Pittsburgh, thinking to better her condition. Until a short time previous to her departure she had been living with her husband in that city, who, in consequence of the stringency of the times, became so much reduced in circumstances that he not only neglected his wife, but, as she alleges, his conduct grew so brutal and cruel she resolved to leave him, and did so. When they arrived here, they took rooms in a house on the corner of Fourth and Smith streets, having their meals sent to them, where they remained domiciled until Monday last. Despairing of obtaining any employment to support them, the sister grew very despondent and silent when in the presence of her brother, and from her manner, he feared she was concocting some desperate scheme. On Monday last, on going to his rooms about the dinner hour, he found his suspicions realized; his sister was gone, and from the evidences left behind her was satisfied that she did not mean to return. Since that time he has been searching the city, but could find no trace of her whereabouts until yesterday. Fearing the worst, he paid a visit to the Chief of Police, and communicated to him his suspicions. Chief McGraw immediately put Detectives Simmons and Billings upon the track, who did not look long before they found [illegible] unfortunate woman at a regular house of ill-fame, No. 199½ Elm street, which is presided over by Kate Williams, whose name is somewhat familiar in the Court calendar. The brother, who had accompanied the officers, pleaded with her, and then remonstrated against remaining in such a place and leading such a despicable life, declaring that he would have the house indicted, but all to no purpose. She replied to him that circumstances with which he was well acquainted had driven her to such a course of life, and she had resolved to pursue it, and if disturbed in that place she would seek some other. Her brother then signaled the officers to take her in custody, and together the party went to the office of the Chief of Police. An attempt was made by the Mayor and the Chief to dissuade her from the life she had chosen, but all their persuasion, in which they pictured the life of a prostitute in all its horrors, together with the tears and entreaties of her brother, could not make her relent; she had chosen the life of a courtesan, and pursue it she would, friends or no friends, brother or no brother, and as there was no charge placed against her she was allowed to go.

Alleged Cheating of a Landlady.

On Wednesday last, Mrs. Catharine McStein, keeper of a boarding house in Lawrenceville, made an information before Alderman Mitchell charging Thomas Dinsmore with false pretences, alleging that the defendant, who was an employe of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, owed her a board bill amounting to $18, in payment of which he gave her a due bill, representing at the same time that there was money due him at the office of the Railroad Company. Shortly after the transaction mentioned, the prosecutrix sent one of her boarders, with the due bill, to the railroad office, when it was learned that Dinsmore had been paid off and discharged some days ago, and that no money was coming to him. The defendant was arrested and committed for trial in default of bail.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, February 15, 1868.

—It is stated in connection with a demand for United States Five Twenties of 1862 on foreign account, in the New York market, that new bonds of the series of 1864 are appearing in the market, and this circumstance, together with others, lead to the belief that Mr. McCulloch is again resorting to the secret issue of government securities through some broker. On this the Post says:

"These secret issues are very unpopular. They are regarded not only as damaging to the credit of the government, imparting as they do an element of uncertainty to the market, but they involve a cost in commissions besides. The Seven Thirties are quiet, and the government is not buying them up through the Sub-Treasury."

The report circulated before the publication of the February statement of the public debt, that the Secretary of the Treasury sold during the month of January $15,000,000 of Ten Forties, is not confirmed by the statment; the increase in the issue of those securities being only $1,809 400.

—The following are the most prominent and interesting items taken from the abstract made by the Comptroller of the Currency, of the reports made by all National Banks in the United States, on the morning of the first Monday (6th) of January, 1868:

LIABILITES.		ASSETS.
Capital	$419,843,760	Discounts	616,185,07?
Surplus	101 899,856	Securities	439 018,80?
Circulation	297 790,882	Due fm bks.	10?,719,11?
Deposits	558,883 774	Cash items	109,352,33?
Due to bks.	120,002,790	Specie	16,634,519
		Legal t'dr & currency	116,146,695
		Comp'd and 3 per cts.	48,214,48?

As shown by the abstract of quarterly reports for January, made by the Comptroller of the Currency, the lawful money reserve in circulation and deposits required under sections 31 and 32 of the National Currency Act, amounts to 31 per cent. of the aggregate amount of the circulation and deposits. The amount required in redemption cities is 25 per cent.; out of redemption cities 16 per cent. By a careful calculation it appears that the banks are holding in the aggregate over $75,000,000 more than is required.

—Says the Philadelphia Ledger: The money market continues easy. Borrowers find no difficulty in obtaining needed supplies by temporary loans on stock collaterals at 5 per cent., and there are comparatively few exceptional transactions above this rate; while upon Government securities large sums are offered at 4 per cent., and in some cases at even a lower figure. The best commercial paper of short date is taken at 6@7 per cent. per annum discount.

—Says the Chicago Tribune: Business in financial circles shows no improvement in either volume or animation. The demand for money is not by any means pressing, and the discount market remains unchanged. There is a closer feeling in currency, growing out of the remittances to the interior. Country balances show a decrease as compared with a few days ago, but city deposits are without any depreciable change. The rates of interest both at bank and in the open market, are unchanged.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, February 15, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was a little more active during the past week, the sales, in the aggregate, being larger than for several weeks past, but prices have undergone no quotable change. We can report a sale of 650 bbls. on spot, at 7½c, and 5000 bbls for March delivery at 7½c, the buyer advancing one dollar and a half per bbl. The ruling quotations are as follows: 7½ to 7¾c, on spot; 7¾c for March; 7⅞ to 8c for April; 8 to 8½c for May, and 11 to 12c for all the year, buyer's option. There was a sale for November at 9½c; also, some barrelled oil at 6¾c, on spot, and 7½c for March delivery, bbls included, delivered free on board cars. The arrivals this week were somewhat larger than last, although they are still comparatively light, and the great proportion of the oil now arriving is going directly in the hands of refiners, the market being in such a condition as to render it unsatisfactory for dealers to do much, and, as a consequence, the great majority of the article are doing little or nothing. From Oil City advices are unimportant; the market is quiet and prices are unchanged.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil has been quiet during the past week, the sales in the aggregate being comparatively light, while so far as prices are concerned, there have been no changes worthy of special notice. Spot oil is still quoted at 22c; all the month, buyer's option, at 22½c; March 23c, same option; April 23½c; May 24c; and June 25c. Sale of 500 bbls for all the year, buyer's option, at 30c. The trade is, and has for some time past, been in a muddled condition, and this has a tendency to retard business and restrict operations, and until matters become more settled, an improvement cannot reasonably be expected. The shipments east continue exceedingly light, and the stock of oil in this market, both Crude and Refined, is unusually light.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil by the Allegheny Valley Railroad to-day, were as follows:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, February 15, 1868.

The general markets, if anything, have been duller than usual during the past week, but now that navigation is again resumed and spring is rapidly approaching, we look for a material improvement in business generally.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is in steady demand at $2.40@2.42 for Red, and $2.50@2.52 for White. Barley is scarce and wanted, and Spring sells readily at $1.93, in first, and $2, in second hands. RIVER NEWS.

The weather was clear and pleasant yesterday and it begins to look as though the worst of the winter was over. The river is clear of ice and in fair navigable condition, although there is not sufficient water to let out large boats loaded to their full capacity.

The Kate Robinson left for Cincinnati on Saturday afternoon, as did also the Eagle for Parkersburg. The Robinson had a very good freight list. She took a barge below Brunot.

A St. Louis telegram under date of Friday says: Captain Hiram Hazlett leaves to-day for Pittsburgh. He has announced the following boats for the mountains: Ida Stockdale, Carrie, Lenl Leoti, Urilda, Peninnah, Andrew Ackley and Arabian.

The J. N. McCullough, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind and act accordingly.

The Messenger, Captain Jesse Dean, is filling up rapidly for St. Louis, as is also the Camelia, Captain Sam Dean for Nashville. The Bellevernon, Capt. Darragh, is also announced for St. Louis.

Captain W. J. Kountz has returned home, after a brief visit to to St. Louis and Chicago.

Mr. McCormack, inventor of the "automatic firemen," now being placed on the Major Anderson, who came near ending his life, by accidently taking poision, at Louisville on Monday, has recovered.

Capt. Reub. Haynes, in command of the Florence Traber, when she sunk in Arkansas river, is in command of the Gleaner, a Memphis and Little Rock packet.

Capt. Pitts, formerly of the Caddo, now commands the Starlight, in place of Captain Hays, deceased.

A late Gallipolis paper says: Captain D. Y. Smithers, of Gallipolis, is about to contract for the building of another new boat, for the Kanawha trade, at Pittsburgh, of the same dimensions as the Mountain Boy, now being built for him at that place. He leaves for Pittsburgh in a few days.

An Evansville telegram, under date of Thursday, says: The Richmond arrived at 8 p. m., with 600 tons, and good engagements below. Parker, Berhoff & Co.'s warehouse, at Grand View, was burned last night, with 500 bales hay, 160 bags corn and much other property. Loss, $16,000; no insurance.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday: Capt. Vandergrift, of the Westmoreland, returned from Pittsburgh yesterday, where he left Capt. Ed. Evans, who was improving slowly. M. G. M. Thrasher, formerly clerk of the Anna, is now engaged in the Auditor's office of this county. The Emma No. 3, Silver Spray, Argosy and J. W. Garrett are loading for New Orleans. The Westmoreland loads next week. The Louisville, Capt. Shunk, leaves Louisville this evening for New Orleans. The Albion came in from Pomeroy, Wednesday, with a tow of coal. The Emma Floyd has a full cargo for Nashville. Capt. Throckmorton, of St. Louis, was examining the G. A. Thompson yesterday with a view to purchasing her. We understand her owners ask $10,000 for her. The Charmer, Capt. George, will drop down to the levee to-morrow and complete her trip for Nashville. She has already 1,800 bbls of salt on board.

We noticed the other day that President Brown, of the Wiggins' Ferry Company at St. Louis, had published a card in the St. Louis papers, giving his reason why he refused to put out the fire on the Clara Dolsen, and reflecting severely on the Eureka Insurance Co., of Pittsburgh. Mr. Brown is out in another card, in which he takes back that part in regard to the Eureka Insurance Co., as will be seen by the following:

Some days ago I felt called upon, through the medium of your paper, to give the reason why the Wiggins Ferry Company's boats did not endeavor to extinguish the fire on the steamer Clara Dolsen, which was, because having done so on a former occasion, some nine months ago, and having applied through the agent of the Eureka, and other Pittsburgh offices, for some remuneration for the services then rendered, but without any response, I naturally felt that the Pittsburgh offices did not value the services of the Ferry Company; but having to-day seen Mr. Robert Finney, Secretary of the Eureka Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, and having learned from him that the claim was not promptly forwarded to Pittsburgh by the agent here, and that if it had been it would have received immediate attention, I therefore take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of many others to show that the offices with which Mr. Robert Finney is connected have, as soon as claims were properly brought before them, acted promptly in adjusting any and all just demands.

The St. Louis Democrat says: A fine looking confidence man, running around extensively of late, could'nt come his game over Mr. Heuer, clerk of the steamer Continental. Mr. Hauer had learned of some of his transactions, and requested, then demanded the fare of "mi lord" and his lady. At this point mi lord demurred, and became indignant, but, seeing that Heuer was determined, he finally acknowledged that his finances were indisposed. Heuer then seized his baggage and that of his wife and child for the passage, and they were allowed to continue to New Orleans.

The Memphis Avalanche of Sunday, says: The time allowed for the removal of the wharfboats from the landing expires to-morrow, but we suppose they will not be removed, as the orders heretofore have never been enforced. The wharf front is 1,350 feet, and the wharfboats occupy 700 feet of the best portion of the levee, leaving only 650 feet of levee room for the local packets and transient boats that land at the wharf to do business. There is not a week that passes by but that some boat incurs damages by being crowded at the wharf, and having insufficient space to do business. The wharfboats, if permitted to remain, should be moved above Jefferson street and below Union, then there would be little room for complaint from steamboatmen, who pay a large revenue to the city. The present contracted space is inadequate for the business. We hope the landing committee will give this their attention.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what was to be free from the disease. I had to sit in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 15th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband Joseph Meyers, but I must confess, with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. Dr. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am today in vigorous health, and TOTALLY FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in awhile, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves it. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Myers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, SIMON P. FISHER, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No 18 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment. GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.
